

Branded Emails

PROVIDING AN INTERACTIVE, PERSONALISED FORM OF COMMUNICATION

Email signatures are a great method for branding corporate emails and providing links to all sorts of vital information and contact details.

Our unique branded emails can be interactive, personalised (for the sender) and contain the current marketing message, which you can change at anytime using our simple control environments.

What needs to be considered when deploying a branded email:

- ✦ Would you like the email branded for each individual or for each department?
- ✦ How much information would you like included? (Picture of the staff member, current advertisement etc.)
- ✦ Would you like to stream information to the emails from the web? (Perhaps the latest news or links or a marketing message.)
- ✦ Should the email have any kind of interactivity?

We will try to fit our solutions into your budget.

Integrating branded emails is extremely easy and full support/training will be provided where needed. Emails will be stored centrally for staff to download and install securely from the web at anytime.
